EARLY BOOKING SAVINGS
Dear alumnae, parents and friends:

For countless centuries, the lands of the Western Mediterranean have exerted an irresistible pull on visitors from all quarters of the globe. The region’s stunning natural beauty is unsurpassed as white limestone cliffs rise dramatically from the Mediterranean’s deep-blue waters; rocky, scalloped shores line rugged island coasts; and gray-green olive trees and eye-catching displays of spring flowers dot picturesque hillsides. Providing a perfect balance to these natural treasures is the unique bounty of cultural riches encompassing the monuments of bygone empires, mesmerizing medieval castles, the enduring works of Renaissance masters and the genius of more recent artists and architects from Picasso to Gaudi.

Cruise with us for seven nights aboard the deluxe, fully chartered M.S. LE DIAMANT on this scenic voyage along sea routes once sailed by Roman galleys, medieval mariners and the great navies of the Napoléonic Wars. Discover the Moorish and Gothic legacies of Palma de Mallorca in Spain’s Balearic Islands; feel the vibrant pulse of Spain’s thriving cultural capital of Barcelona; visit the humble birthplace of one of history’s most compelling figures, Napoléon, on the rustic French isle of Corsica; walk in the footsteps of Roman emperors and centurions in the Eternal City; and admire the artistic and architectural treasures of Florence, birthplace of the Italian Renaissance.

This distinctive itinerary affords you a unique opportunity to view the monuments of the Roman, medieval, Renaissance and modern eras on exclusive guided tours and view the spectacular coastlines of Palma de Mallorca, Corsica, western Italy and the French Riviera while cruising to some of Europe’s most charming and historic ports. You may further explore the historic and cultural treasures of Spain on a two-night Marbella Pre-Program Option and/or the famous French Riviera on a two-night Nice Post-Program Option.

Join us for this unique Western Mediterranean cruise from Málaga on Spain’s Costa del Sol to Nice on the French Riviera. Capacity is limited and this exceptional travel value is certain to sell out quickly, so we urge you to make your reservation before October 1, 2007, while Early Booking Savings are still available. We look forward to hearing from you soon!

Peace and blessings,

PALMA DE MALLORCA,
BALEARIC ISLANDS
Saturday, May 3
Founded by the Romans, occupied by the Moors during the Middle Ages and restored to Spanish control by King James I of Aragon in 1230, Palma rose to wealth and power as the preeminent port for Europe’s trade with Africa during the 15th century. During a morning tour discover its past glory while visiting its most important medieval monuments, beginning with the imposing Almudaina Palace. Originally built as a citadel for the Wali (Moors governor), this impressive complex overlooking the harbor was converted into a Spanish royal palace in the 13th century by James II of Mallorca, who also decreed the construction of the Chapel of St. Anne, an exceptional example of Romanesque design. Today the palace serves as a venue for state ceremonies when King Juan Carlos II visits the island and is home to a museum featuring an impressive collection of Flemish tapestries depicting important events throughout Spain’s history. Continue with a walk along the waterfront Paseo Maritimo and enjoy stunning panoramic views en route to the Palma Cathedral, a magnificent sandstone cathedral known as La Seu that rises above Palma’s skyline. Begun in 1230 to commemorate King James of Aragon’s victory over the Moors, it took 300 years to construct and represents the fullest flowering of the Catalan Gothic style; renovations to its interior by the famed architect Antoni Gaudí in the early 20th century produced a uniquely harmonious blend of old and new.

Following lunch, the afternoon is free to enjoy this historic port on your own. The ship departs and cruises the Mediterranean this evening.

BARCELONA
Sunday, May 4
One of Europe’s most exuberant, stylish and cosmopolitan cities, Barcelona is a dazzling symbol of the newly prosperous and self-confident Spain that has emerged in the last 30 years. Lively and colorful boulevards such as Las Ramblas and Paseo de Gracia are lined with chic boutiques and restaurants; the city’s beaches are among Europe’s most famous; and, from the soaring Gothic turrets of the La Seu cathedral to the daring Art Nouveau masterpieces of Antoni Gaudí, Barcelona’s architectural heritage is unrivaled.

Begin this morning’s city tour with a drive to Montjuïc (Hill of the Jews) for stunning views of the harbor and the city center. Continue along the famous Paseo de Gracia through the stylish Eixample district to see the great Art Nouveau and modernista architecture of the Mansana de la Discòrdia (Block of Discord), including Montaner's Casa Lleó Morera, Cadafalch’s Amatller and Antoni Gaudí’s Casa Milà, also called La Pedrera. The vast extent of Gaudí’s creativity is further revealed during a special tour of the interior of his masterpiece, La Sagrada Familia, a massive unfinished church built in a flamboyant neo-Gothic style highlighted by eight spires, each soaring more than 100 meters. The morning concludes with a walking tour in the city’s medieval center, the Barri Gòtic (Gothic Quarter), featuring La Seu, a Gothic masterpiece that was begun in 1298 and took 150 years to complete.

Your afternoon is free to further discover Barcelona’s treasures. Late this afternoon, the ship sails for Corsica.

Ajaccio, Corsica, France
Monday, May 5

Dock this afternoon in the port of Ajaccio on the western coast of Corsica, a scenic French island known for its rugged mountains, endless miles of beaches and wooded hillsides covered with vineyards, olive groves and citrus orchards. Napoléon Bonaparte was born in Ajaccio in 1769, the year following the reunion of Corsica with France, and paradoxically, France’s greatest leader grew up in this charming little town speaking a dialect of Italian in which Corsicans continue to converse to this day. This afternoon, you may choose to tour Ajaccio’s most notable landmarks, including Napoléon’s birthplace and childhood home at the Maison Bonaparte, and the impressive 16th-century Cathedral of Notre Dame, where Napoléon was baptized in 1771. Or, you may choose to take a scenic drive into Corsica’s picturesque interior where stunning vistas of the island’s breathtaking mountainous landscapes await you at the dramatic Prunelli River gorges.

Rome, Italy (Civitavecchia)
Tuesday, May 6

Once the center of the ancient world’s greatest empire, Rome resembles an open-air museum of Classical, medieval, Renaissance and Baroque architecture. This morning board a motorcoach for a panoramic overview of the city’s principal landmarks, including the Forum, the Colosseum and St. Peter’s Basilica, where a guided tour of the church’s interiors is highlighted by the 448-foot-high dome designed by Michelangelo. After a lunch of traditional cucina Romana, enjoy time at leisure in the Eternal City to pursue individual interests at your own pace. Return to the ship late this afternoon.

Gaudi's imposing La Sagrada Familia is considered the masterpiece of the Art Nouveau movement.

FLORENCE (LIVORNO)
Wednesday, May 7

Dock in the bustling port of Livorno and drive through the heart of Tuscany on a full-day excursion to Florence, “the Cradle of the Renaissance” and home to many of history’s greatest artistic, literary and scientific figures, including Galileo Galilei, Niccolò Machiavelli, Leonardo da Vinci and Michelangelo Buonarroti. Imagine life during the height of the Renaissance as you view Florence’s most notable landmarks—the 13th-century Gothic Cathedral of Santa Maria del Fiore, crowned by Brunelleschi’s soaring dome; the octagonal Baptistry, an architectural jewel; and the Casa di Dante, a restored medieval Florentine tower house. In the Galleria dell’ Accademia, admire Michelangelo’s David, the crowning achievement of Renaissance sculpture. Following a lunch of Tuscan specialties in a nearby restaurant, there will be time to further discover the treasures of Florence on your own before returning to Livorno.

This evening, join the Captain and your fellow travelers for a special farewell reception before dinner.
