“Gendering the Caribbean Picturesque” deals with gender, race, class the question of identity formation, or alternative based on her new film, entitled, “The Sign of the Loa.” Ms. Mohammed will do an introduction to the film via the project of writing and research which interfaces with the book Imagine the Caribbean. This deals with the question of art and religious symbolism but is equally tied in with the issues of identity and race rather than gender is the point of entry and of course the meaning of aesthetics.
