

Dear Bennies,

As we all prepare for graduation and you prepare for life, we all seem to be scurrying about campus. Let us not get caught up in what we are doing to forget about the important stuff. Everyone has different important stuff. Long ago as a young man not much younger than you are now, I decided what was important for my life to be successful.

My success was dependent on service to others. I have been blessed with so many beautiful things in life that it only seemed fair and logical to give to others.

Remember, as you leave this magnificent place, you can always come back and visit. We are open to the public. It makes good sense considering you will have left part of your heart here. Also, you may need to drop your kids off for a few years 😊. Make sure they pick the best school for themselves but know we will have the best food at Gorecki!

In the meantime, go set down roots, travel, do more school or whatever gets you living your dream. Take your Benedictine values with you. Share those values with all you meet. Give of yourself, try new things, and be ambitious. Everyone you meet becomes a part of you. Whether small or large part, make sure that you give them the good. As well as only taking the positive from others. If we continue this process, we can only make this a better world.

I'll stop rambling and let you get to it! Just a few words from a guy serving others and living the dream!
