Return Semester:  Fall  Spring  Year: 20____

❖ Students who store property must sign and submit this Student Storage Agreement to Residential Life.
❖ Only the student who stores belongings may retrieve them.
❖ Students may only store items for themselves. Students may not hold belongings for another student, roommate, or anyone else.
❖ Students who store their belonging do so at their own risk. St. John’s University is not responsible for loss of or damage to stored items and will not reimburse for them.
❖ Students must pick up their stored belongings within ten days of the start of the semester that they indicate they plan to return to campus.
❖ Students must notify SJU Residential Life in advance if their planned return date changes.
❖ Abandoned property* are all items remaining in storage after 28 days of the start of the semester (that the student indicated they planned to return to campus). After that time, Saint John’s may dispose of or donate all remaining unclaimed items and is not responsible for providing reimbursement.

I understand and agree to the above terms.

*Abandoned Property
504B.271 TENANT’S PERSONAL PROPERTY REMAINING IN PREMISES.
Subdivision 1. Abandoned property. https://www.revisor.leg.state.mn.us/statutes/?id=504B.271

(a) If a tenant abandons rented premises, the landlord may take possession of the tenant’s personal property remaining on the premises and shall store and care for the property. The landlord has a claim against the tenant for reasonable costs and expenses incurred in removing the tenant’s property and in storing and caring for the property.

(b) The landlord may sell or otherwise dispose of the property 28 days after the landlord receives actual notice of the abandonment or 28 days after it reasonably appears to the landlord that the tenant has abandoned the premises, whichever occurs last.
