

EXTERNAL SUMMER STUDY ABROAD PROGRAMS

Costs for study abroad programs not affiliated with CSB/SJU vary greatly. It is up to you to determine tuition, fees, room & board, and other expenses for non-CSB/SJU programs and pay that program directly. It is important to know what is included and what is not; do not just focus on the sticker price.

Note that students on summer external programs are required to be covered under CSB/SJU accident & sickness insurance. You will not be able to apply your CSB/SJU institutional financial aid (i.e. President's or Trustees' Scholarships, CSB/SJU Grants, Music or Theater Scholarships, etc.) during your summer on an external program. You will still have no access to your state and federal aid during summer term as well.

QUESTIONS?

The Center for Global Education encourages students to make an appointment with the CSB/SJU Financial Aid Offices if there are questions about financing study abroad not answered here.

General Information on Financial Aid for Short-Term Study Abroad

Financial aid for short-term programs is typically limited to student and parent loans. Your eligibility and choice of loans depend primarily on how many credits you will be taking.

If you will be enrolled in six or more credits, you are eligible to borrow through the Federal Direct Loan or your parents are eligible to borrow through the Federal Direct PLUS Loan. However, students should be aware of how utilizing these funds may impact the amount of aid available for the following academic year.

If you will be enrolled in less than six credits, you are limited to non-federal private loans.

Students should meet with the Financial Aid Office to discuss all their available options for funding a short-term study abroad program.

General Information on Financing Short-Term Study Abroad

Short-term study abroad programs have 2 billable expenses: tuition and a program fee. The program fee will cover different expenses so it is essential to have a full understanding of what is and is not included.
